

A Nasturtium Reception.

The warm weather doesn't seem to inconvenience society in Marshall in the least and the ball keeps rolling merrily in sunlight and moonlight alike, while the mercury bubbles cheerfully up from the nineties and the ice man airily flits from door to door. Among the many social events of the week, was the Nasturtium reception given by Mrs. J. D. G. Donahoo to the Fancy Work Club and others, on Tuesday evening at her home on East Arrow St. The hours from 6 to 8:30 were happily chosen, as the weather of the past week has been too warm to enjoy anything in the middle of the day. The shower of the morning only cooled off the atmosphere and the company found it very delightful on the pretty lawn that was dotted here and there with rustic seats, chaises, swings, hammocks, etc.

Mrs. Donahoo was assisted in receiving by her two little daughters, Katherine and Eleanor, Agnes Lester Hall, Mary Duggins and Hallie Lewis, all beautifully dressed for the occasion in pretty white dresses, excepting Agnes Lester Hall, who wore a lovely pink organdy very becoming to her style of beauty. The receiving party also included Mrs. Katherine Brown, mother of the hostess, Misses Gertrude Brown, Frances Napier, Minnie Patterson and Besse Oceans.

Mrs. Donahoo received in a small, some green, some organza over rose colored silk. Mrs. Brown wore a black greenish reception dress over purple silk with train. The young ladies were all exceedingly and prettily gowned in their summer dresses, most bewitching in appearance.

The house was decorated in appropriate ferns, wild roses and moonlight. The guests were received at the door by Mrs. James Donahoo and the little girls then invited them into the dining room where they were served to fresh lemonade by Miss Alice King who very graciously presided over the punch bowl.

A pleasant feature of the reception was the musical numbers by Miss Alice, Mrs. James, Mrs. and Miss Katharine Correll at this time.

Entertainment, consisting of fresh fruit and a variety of sandwiches were served during the evening and it was a very gay, honest, peaceful reception.

Mrs. C. A. Wright's Musical.

Mrs. C. A. Wright gave an elegant and appropriate program of solo singing, piano, dancing, etc., at her home last Friday evening. The pretty girls who accompanied her to Mrs. Alcott, and performed at the hostess' tea, Saturday, will make an excellent class. Mrs. Alcott has visited every city, town and city and the pleasure upon this occasion of collecting old acquaintances and making new ones, which was mutual pleasure.

The audience were congenial, with sweet songs, recitations and elegant dances, which made a pretty setting for the pretty young girls with bright eyes and happy faces of the many pretty girls present. Marshall is blessed with a greater number of beautiful girls than most towns of like size anywhere, and we think these girls the sweetest.

The program included instrumental duets by Mrs. Wright and Miss Patterson and several instrumental selections by Mrs. Schooling Chapline, with vocal solos by Misses Cordell and Abbott and Miss Francisco. Each number was highly enjoyed, and the participants all remarkably talented. Refreshments of brick cream and cake were served at ten o'clock. Miss Abbott of Savannah and Miss McHeide of Paris, Mo., were the out-of-town guests.

Students Entertained.

The Faculty of the summer school delightedly entertained the summer students on Monday evening at the residence of Miss Orr, hours from 8 to 10.

There were about 30 in all present and it proved a most enjoyable evening for each of them. Prof. J. W. Kirkpatrick with a violin solo came first on the musical program that had been prepared, and his numbers were all rendered in superb style. Miss Edna Fleckmeyer favored the company with several beautiful evolutions. Several vocal numbers with guitar accompaniment by Arthur Hall were well received. Miss Faith Morris recited in a very pleasing manner, "The Trial" from Shadley after which many refreshments of fruit lemonade and French tea cakes were served.

Among the guests present were Misses James W. H. Black, J. S. M. Hall and L. M. Nelson.

Entertained.

Mrs. S. T. Hunter delightfully entertained a number of ladies last week at her home on Boston street, hours from 8 to 10. The little informal dinner compliment to Mrs. S. C. Munroe, of Chicago, and Mrs. Lulu V. Verby, of Decatur, Texas, who are visitors to our city.

The attractive home was made beautiful with many varieties of cut flowers, elegant batikas, napkins and delicious sugar plums.

A very social time was had and delicious refreshments, handsomely served and nicely enjoyed. The following ladies were present: Misses James, S. C. Munroe, Win. Boston, L. O. Steiner, L. L. Compton, H. Bell, Win. Harrison, Dr. Sharpenay, Frank Boyd, Moses Lyndon, Verby, Whitaker, Julia Ward, Louise, Sojourner Truth and Miss Fletcher and Miss Hughes.

Haworth Robin

Miss C. M. Haworth, piano of the Marshall M. E. Circuit, and Miss Lucy Robin were married at the home of the bride's father, Rev. C. R. Robin, at Greencrook on Sunday evening, June 26th, at 8 o'clock. Rev. C. R. Robin performing the ceremony.

Only the relatives and intimate friends were present.

An elegant supper was served during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Haworth arrived in Marshall Sunday for a short visit to the home of the groom on West Morgan street, after which they will take an extended trip West. The community extends congratulations.

Children's Day.

Sunday was children's day at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, beginning at 7:30 in the evening, and the house was packed with a most appreciative audience. The program was a fine one and the children all did themselves proud. Seven little children 8 years old and younger, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Reynolds, deserve special mention. They made a beautiful picture in their long sleeveless, Greek gowns as they marched from the vestibule of the church down the aisle to the platform, where they very gracefully went through the pantomime, "Never say God to these" to the accompaniment of the autoharp. Great credit is due the ladies in whose charge they were placed one short week ago.

Little Jane Everett Morris in her recitation about the "Ball of the sparrows" was just as cute and sweet as could be. Bertha Shaw in her recitation of "The garden of Shalimar" was a beautiful picture combining grace and beauty in every movement.

Madge Hunt's recitation of "Dead in it?" was especially good. Perhaps one of the best numbers in the program was "The summer picnic" by Bevry Mitchell. The following is the excellent programme:

1. March and opening address by Primary department.
2. Bible lesson by school.
3. Prayer by Rev. Morris.
4. Song, "All hail the power of Jesus name."
5. Rev. by five little boys: "How to grow like Jesus."
6. Rev. by Jane Everett Morris.
7. Motion song by primary department, "We'll worship Jesus."
8. Rev. by Madge Hunt, "The Dead Ball."
9. Rev. by Ethel Shaw, "The garden of Shalimar."
10. Examination of the Primary graduates.
11. Rev. by Bevry Mitchell, "Please come."
12. Duet singing, "Never say God to these."

In connection with the exercises an Sunday evening, the children from 8 to 12 graduated out of the primary and passed up into the intermediate department, having passed an oral examination in reading the Apostles Creed, the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments, the 23rd Psalm, the Beatitudes, Books of the Bible, the Titles of Jesus, the names of the Apostles and their apostles.

The Misses Woodbridge Entertain.

A pretty "At home" was given by the Misses Woodbridge on Thursday evening at their pleasant home on East Arrow St., when about 40 of Marshall's young people were gathered.

The little informal was attended by Misses Hanson of Kansas City, an interesting blonde, who has made many friends and admirers since her arrival in Marshall.

The Misses Woodbridge, gowned in beautiful shore white dresses, made charming and painstaking hostesses. The evening was full of interest from beginning to end. Miss Katherine Cordell gave some vocal numbers during the evening, also K. K. Mayer that were highly appreciated.

Different games were indulged in by the young people and altogether it was one of the most pleasant events of the summer season. Those present were Misses Uelia King, Louise Van Dyke, Katherine Cordell, Martha Bea and Janet Laird, Misses K. K. Mayer, Leonard Van Dyke, Ralph Higgins, Josh Barber, Warren Colvert and Will Bea.

Fruit lemonade, brick cream and cake were nicely served during the evening.

Party on East Arrow Street.

Miss Ethel Rose was the happy young hostess on Friday evening at her home on East Arrow St., to a number of her young friends. The hours from 4 to 6 were full of pleasure for the entertained. Many games were indulged in, but the one that gave the most pleasure was "A game of taking." A large curtain was stretched across the room and the parties taking would throw the hook over the top of the curtain and some one from behind would have the hook with strong hands.

Refreshments of ice cream, cakes, lemonade and bananas were served in the dining room. The following were present: Agnes and John Hall, Frank and Mary Duggins, Hallie Lewis, Frances Bucklin, Katherine Viley, Helen Duggins, Eleanor and Katherine Donahoo, Elizabeth McClure, Alice and Mary Montague.

Birthday Celebration.

Dennis Berg celebrated his 12th birthday on last Thursday by inviting his relatives to an elegant six o'clock dinner. The party was a large one and at this time, nothing is ever done by halves. There were signs of forty things to eat and the little gentleman was the recipient of some very handsome and costly presents, among which were numerous tokens from his grandparents, Mrs. and Mrs. J. L. Thompson; the chain was a gift from his father and mother and the ornaments were a set of 2000 silver pieces from Mr. Robert Ladd and Mrs. Marion Werniger of St. Louis. The present of the aged grandmother who has been in poor health for some months, was the interesting link to a happy life.

Mrs. J. G. Goodwin Entertains.

Mrs. J. G. Goodwin of Albion, originally entertained a number of ladies at an elegant dinner on Friday evening for her sister, Mrs. Ernestine of Kalamazoo, Mich. The beautiful house furnished throughout without imitations was a picture indeed and the day also a most pleasant one. The following ladies were present: Misses McMillen, W. C. Johnson, Minnie Burman, George Johnson, Chas. Collier, Mr. Taylor and Mr. T. Grant.

From Misses Weston, L. D. Chapman, B. M. Spotts, Lydia Blackford, Marshall, Gladys Clark and Ora Fitch.

Mrs. Adelia A. Wayland, a young bride, morning from a child, Mrs. C. A. Wright.
